ERGONOMICS

Not just for the office.

Guest Speaker

So many people think of the office when they think of ergonomics, but ergonomics is so much more than just preparing your desk appropriately. This session will challenge you to think of how ergonomics can apply to almost every aspect of your work and personal life. If you have an ergonomic situation that you're struggling with, please be prepared to send your question. There will be plenty of time for virtual discussion following the presentation.
